

Organisational Behaviour

Name of the subject: Organisational Behaviour	NEPTUN code: GSVOB1KTNC	Weekly hours: 2	Credit: 3
Subject leader:	Szikora Péter lecturer	Prerequisites: none

Purpose of the course is to teach the basic rules of functioning in an organisation, especially in a team and to give insight into the pool of fundamental individual and group competencies through simulations in teams

Course description: Organisational behaviour is explored from individual and group perspectives, with special emphasis on decisions and its effect on both levels.

Schedule

Weeks	Topics
1.	Introduction
2.	Individual perspective
3.	Decisions
4.	Game theory
5.	Motivation
6.	Group
7.	Test
8.	Culture
9.	Leadership and its power base
10.	Conflicts and negotiation
11.	New challenges of the XXI. century
12.	Communication
13.	Final Test
14.	Opportunity for retaking the test

Final grade:

based on a presentation and the activity during the semester (50%) and two tests (50%)

Compulsory literature:

Stephen P. Robbins, Timothy A. Judge: Organizational Behavior, Pearson Prentice Hall, 2007

Supplemental literature:

Elliot Aronson: The Social Animal, Worth Publishers, 2003